

I am in full support of the Do Not Call law for New Jersey. The only changes I would consider acceptable would be to make the law even more stringent, if that were possible.

I do not believe just because an individual has done business with or contributed to a business or organization in the past (be it 18 months or even 3 years) that the business should be contacting the individual to solicit business or donations without the individual's consent. It should be the right of the individual to initiate the contact.
